Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—It is now evident that the Joint High Commission will not be further delayed in labors. It is stated, to-day, that the report which will be submitted to the Senate will be favorable recommendations for the settlement of only such questions as have a local bearing here, such as the San Juan boundary, the fisheries, and the navigation of the St. Lawrence. The Alabama claims and the other questions referred to will be handled by the regular authorities in the South by reason of late cases during the recess. Should the Commissioners fail to agree, the matters will be referred to the Senate, to be approved, and before they become operative, to the consent of the British Government. This Board of Arbitration, it is said, will be composed of five members, to be selected from the following countries: The United States, Great Britain, France, and Switzerland, the latter to nominate the fifth member. These countries have been selected in the capacity of a jury, to agree and decide upon the questions, and all other countries will assume to be absolutely neutral.

HIGH POLITICAL PLACES.

A certain Senator from Illinois has just arrived here, without a plan of theirs political position in the Cabinet, but with a strong probability of getting a thing that has come to light for a long time. A certain lawyer in that locality, failing hitherto of some colorful result put upon him by the court over which this Judge presides, conceived the idea of writing a letter of resignation to the President, requesting the appointment of this judicial officer thereto. The letter was duly received by the President, and was couched in such flattering terms that he was induced to send for the writer. The lat
